

Tim Alderson
Pasadena, CA
Director since: March, 2009
Current 48th DAA Board Member position: Past President

Bio:

Tim Alderson is the Executive Director of Seeds of Hope, the food justice ministry of the Episcopal Diocese of Los Angeles, which grows and distributes food in over 100 communities of need across six Southern California counties. In this role Mr. Alderson also oversees a Nutrition Education Obesity Prevention program under contract with the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health providing garden-based nutrition education in more than twenty low-income communities across the county.

His lifetime in agriculture has included nearly 20 years as CEO of AgriGator, Inc., a multi-national soil amendment manufacturer, as well as numerous industry boards including the board of directors of the National Agri-Marketing Association. He was the founding chairman of the California School Garden Network and previously served on the California Department of Education's School Garden Advisory Committee.

Tim lives in Pasadena, California where he has served as Chairman of the city's Recreation and Parks Commission and the Mayor's Workforce Housing Task Force.